GOOD ATTENDANCE AT BAZAAR SATURDAY—RECEIPTS ABOUT $825

Bethel's seventh annual bazaar held last Saturday was well attended.

The booths on the common which included fancy work, arts and crafts, ice cream, dairy bar and 4-H exhibit, home made candy and foods, hot dogs, sandwiches, coffee and doughnuts, flowers and plants, novelties, cold drinks, and several different games, were well patronized throughout the day.

A feature of the afternoon was the baseball game between the Pony Leaguers and their dads which afforded great sport for those participating, as well as for the spectators. The boys "eked" out an 11 to 10 victory over the "old" men, with several hits of the boys being stretched into homers, due to the fact that the fathers were a little slow in running.

The parade at 5 o'clock, headed by Oakley Godwin and Barbara Plummer on horseback was a big attraction. Prizes for floats were awarded: First, Hanover Dovel Co., "Keep Maine Green;" second, Shell Service Station; third, "Ketchum Trapper."

Kitchen awarded children were: First, Judy Angeline and Lee Blake, "Mr and Mrs Tom Thumb;" second, Danna Brown, Japanese Girl; third, Burton Mills and Rebecca Scottie, Bride and Groom; fourth, Karen Soule, with dress, hat and tricycle decorated with playing cards.

A popular feature of the day was the bean-hole bean supper served on the Common from 5:30 to 7:30. Organizations represented included: American Legion, Ways and Means Club, Men's Brotherhood, Congregational Guild, Eleanor Gordon Guild, PTA, Happy Herdmen 4-H Club, WSCS, Lions Club, Alder River Grange, Extension Service, Lucky 13 4-H Club, Bethel Players.

All accounts are not yet in, but the Bazaar this year will net approximately $825 thanks to all the public-spirited workers who made it possible and to the patrons for their support.

The town treasurer shall then pay the bounty and take the claimant's receipt therefor upon the same paper with such certificates and the town treasurer shall make upon the same paper a certificate addressed to the Commissioner of Agriculture that all the requirements of law have been met by the claimant and that the bounty has been paid to him.

LABOR DAY TRAFFIC DEATHS IN NATION PREDICTED AT 410

The lowest nation-wide traffic fatality estimate for the Labor Day week and since 1950 was announced by the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies.

The Association, which attributed the reduction to the current "Slow Down and Live" traffic safety campaign, estimated that 410 persons will die on the highways during the coming 78 hour holiday week end.

Specifically, the Association forecast ascribed the 410 expected deaths to these causes: 135 fatalities due to excessive speed; 65 deaths from driving on the wrong side of the road; 42 from reckless driving; 39 from failure to yield the right-of-way; and 29 from falling asleep at the wheel.

The remaining 100 deaths will include 35 pedestrians who attempted to cross the street between intersections, 10 who stepped into the street from behind parked cars and 55 fatalities from miscellaneous actions of drivers and pedestrians.

In addition to these traffic deaths, over 22,000 drivers and passengers, plus some 3,200 pedestrians, are feared likely to suffer personal injury. At least one out of every four drivers or pedestrians involved in a fatal accident will have been drinking alcohol immediately before the accident, the Association said.

Concerning the holiday forecast, Thomas N. Boale, manager of the Association's Accident Prevention Department, said: "The expected reduction directly reflects the reduced traffic toll experienced during this summer's nationwide 'Slow Down and Live' campaign. While slight, the decrease is significant. It gives motorists added hopes that their cooperation with mass, coordinated safety programs can lower the traffic toll."

"Labor Day begins officially at 6 P. M. Friday, September 2 and ends at midnight on the following Monday. It is the nation's third three-day holiday this year and there is every reason to believe that with the help of motorists, it can also be the safest. Courtesy, caution and cooperation should be the watch-words for safe Labor Day week end driving."

M. F. & G. A. ACCEPTS BRYANT POND ESTATE FOR YOUTH CAMP

(Maine Sportsmen's Guide, Sept., 1955)

The executive committee of the Maine Fish and Game Association has accepted the generous gift from a Portland widow of a beautiful 60 acre estate on Lake Christopher in Bryant Pond and the transfer of ownership is now going through the legal process.

The property, which includes a beautiful 16 room house, a smaller log cabin, which is a good sized cottage in itself, and numerous other buildings which may be developed into a Youth Conservation Camp and Workshop and named the Waterhouse Memorial in honor of the late husband of the donor of the property.

The property, which was known as Cranestone, is beautifully wooded with maple, white birch, spruce and pine which will be conserved in its present state under agreement of the transfer to the Maine Fish and Game Association.

The large stone and wood house, surrounded by large lawns and gardens, commands a beautiful view across the lake toward the distant hills. The clear waters of the lake are well stocked with trout and fishing is excellent throughout the season.

The main house is about 45x54 feet with a covered veranda 40 feet long and 10 feet wide. Although the house was built and equipped in the fashion of a mansion, the rooms are of such size and laid out in such a manner as to be easily adaptable to a Youth Camp. It certainly will be as luxurious a "camp" as any Maine-bred youth might expect to attend within the bounds of his own home state.

When the house was built some years ago at day labor, it cost $30,000 to build. The estimated value of the property today is in excess of $75,000.

Other buildings on the property are a two-car stone and wood garage with cement floor, an lea-house, a roomy shingled boat house and the large log cabin with its own garage and complete with cellar, heat, water and a fireplace a beautiful camp in itself.

Further plans for the use of the property will be made as soon as the Maine Fish and Game Association resumes its regular meetings this fall. It will provide ample topics for planning and discussion throughout the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Thurston, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Thurston, Jimmy and Frances, attended the Little-hale reunion at Errol, N. H., on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cole, Nancy and Curtis, spent last week at Lakewood at camp visiting Mrs. Leona Curtis. Nancy remained to visit another week.

Mrs. A. W. Bowden and daughters returned Sunday to Millbury, Mass., after spending some time here with Mrs. H. I. Bean. Keith is remaining for two more weeks.

Spfc Raymond J. York is serving as personnel clerk of "TK" Company, 225 Airborne Infantry Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg, N. C. He has to his credit 18 jumps.

Mrs. and Max Zallen have moved from West Newton, Mass., to the apartment in his house on Main Street recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall. Mr. Zallen is owner of the Bethel Theatre.

Ideas from other editors

From The Beacon, Lake Charles, Louisiana: Before hiring an employee, the man who has to "meet the payroll" will weigh the applicant for honesty, being a man of his word, sincerity and ability to do the job.

Business doesn't hire people they doubt—business doesn't hire people simply because they belong to the same church or fraternal organization; they don't hire people because they like the way the individual combs his hair. They want producers; they expect effort; they demand honesty. The man who has to "meet the payroll" expects something for his money. He demands a report of every transaction, especially matters that concern his money. If he doesn't get a full accounting for every cent of his money, he gets rid of the employee.

Government and the handling of the people's money is the biggest business in these United States, yet the people who do the hiring of public officials, (which is done under our Democratic system by voting) give little or no thought to weighing every candidate just as vigorously as they would if they were hiring someone to run their business for them. Considering the fact that government is big business, considering the fact that the manner in which government is operated affects the lives of every man, woman and child, it is high time we give more serious consideration as to the people we elect as public officials. Know more about them, make sure your better judgment indicates that office seekers meet every requirement you would expect of someone you personally were putting on your payroll. Discount political promises, turn a deaf ear to the pre-election ballyhoo of the professional politician. Let's elect people to political office who have had business experience, people who know the value of other people's money, and conduct the big business of government in a practical, sensible business-like manner. Business men, men who till the soil, people who believe in, and will be instrumental in the operation of a government of the people, by the people and for the people. We see examples of the "do nothing" professional politician every day. Good government rests with the people in their selection of the men they "hire" by casting that precious vote.

Let's put the business of government on a sound, business basis by careful selection of public officials.

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

The Russian farmers who visit Iowa, in order to learn about the state's famed corn-hog economy, were amazed at what they saw. Our farming methods and the standard of living of our farm families are so superior to those of the Soviet Union as to make comparisons practically impossible.

U. S. News and World Report observes that the Russians would do as well to take a look at American workers. For, as the magazine says, "The American wage earner, in many ways, is on top of the world right now. His pay is higher than that of any other wage earner in the world. His standard of living compares favorably with the upper class in almost any other country. This worker today is an owner of property. He usually has a bank account. His material comforts are scarcely imagined by workers in other countries. He has a high degree of job security."

Then U. S. News devotes an illustrated article to an actual Detroit family whose head and breadwinner is reasonably typical of skilled workers in American industry today.

This man is 41 years old, has worked for various automotive companies, and is now an induction heat operator in a Ford engine plant. He has a wife and four children. And here are some facts about his life, as set down by U. S. News staffers who visited him at his job and in his home.

On a straight-time, 40-hour basis, his pay would be $45.40 a week. Due to overtime, however, it has been averaging $119.50. On an annual basis, there has been striking improvement in recent years. Where he earned $3,730.85 before taxes in 1952, he took in $5,430 after taxes in 1954. Though he may put in less overtime this year than last, he expects his 1955 take to exceed $5,600.

He has all kind of other benefits, including life, hospital, sickness and disability insurance, of which the company pays the larger of the premiums. In the event of a protracted layoff from work, he will get better than $30 a week in unemployment benefits for 20 weeks. And if he continues on the job until age 65, he can retire with a $237.65 a month pension—$162.80 from social security plus $74.85 from the company.

He and his family live in a pleasant house in an excellent neighborhood. The home is being amortized under a $61.20 a month mortgage, and Russians and citizens of most other countries certainly would regard it as a miracle of comfort and convenience. Its equipment includes all manner of automatic appliances — refrigerator, stove, washer and dryer, several radios, a TV set, a vacuum, and so on. The family owns a paid-for 1953 sedan, and is considering buying a new model next year. The children, according to plan, will go to a near-by college.

It is clear, of course, that these people are good managers. The wife is a canny shopper, and the husband belongs to the do-it-yourself school when it comes to home repairs and improvements. They run only one installment account at a time. Their recreations are simple and inexpensive. But the point is that they live far, far better than their equivalents abroad, and far better than did their predecessors in this country. And what has happened to them, as U. S. News says, "is becoming typical of the situation of the average American wage earner."

It seems that the Russians would find plenty of sources of amazement in American families—just as they did on American farms.

Woodburn, Ore., Independent: "Our American system of production and distribution of goods and services is based on private rather than public ownership. . . . and this is the greatest producer of goods, services and jobs. Therefore there can be no sound or fundamental reason why the production of the power requirements. . . should not be met by the same methods. It is high time that our representatives put the economic welfare. . . ahead of petty power politics."

Wilmington, N. C., Morning Star: "When the price of security even security with luxury is the surrender of individual freedom, nature abhors the cost. This is true of mankind and dumb animals, too. It is, in fact, a universal truth. Even plant life thrives more abundantly in the wilderness than in the cultivated plot."

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

The new New Hampshire Sent stamp carries a message from "The old man of the mountains" that needs a re-broadcasting. "Live free or die" is the motto of that New Hampshire-land. Slugged folks — these White Mountain boys.

You know, living free is not so free as it sounds when we say this is the "land of the free and the home of the brave." You try, as an example, going into the electric power business on your own free hook in Tennessee-land. You might get in but you would soon get out. Trying to compete with a tax-free TVA would make your path rocky and rough — you could not cut the mustard. Your only freedom would be to close up shop—or do as New Hampshire, says take your chance.

And say you live in some far away state—and don't choose to ante up an extra tax to keep TVA's moss above water—where is freedom. Canbo sends you his April 12th bill and you pay it or you go to "prison." Your state can't send freedom has been watered down. But things are not hopeless—exactly. A brand new congress by taking heed of Mr. Hoover's Tax Free recommendations could get things out of 100 or 1000 places where taxation is making it tough for everybody to freely flex his muscle. Congress could get out of the rat-race, cotton gin and the other tax-water stream-gate, that raises the prices of corn-bread, night shirts and what have you.

Yours with the low down,
JO HENRI

"THE AMERICAN WAY"

Our Best Defense

by George
Peck

George Peck
(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

Certain facts about these United States of ours should be repeated over and over. Some of us still do not know them; others of us know them but have forgotten them; others of us know them but fail to appreciate their full significance; and finally there are the "parlor pinkies" and the unintelligent so-called "intellectuals" who just simply ignore them.

So, not in any spirit of boasting or in an attitude of jostling it over the less fortunate peoples of the world, but just by way of counting our blessings from time to time and being thankful for them, certain statistics should be constantly reiterated. As for instance:

We Americans have only 1/15th of the earth's population, yet we have:

Over 1/3 of the world's railroads.
Almost 1/2 of the world's radios.
Almost 3/4 of the world's automobiles.
1/2 of the world's telephones.
And we Americans use:
Over 1/5th of all the world's sugar.

Over 1/2 of all the world's silk.
1/2 of all the world's rubber.
Almost 3/5ths of all the world's petroleum.

And another "for instance":

The total buying power of the workers of the United States is greater than that of all the workers of Europe combined and more than that of more than one billion Asiatics.

These are but a few of the "for instances" that can be cited to illustrate just what a lucky nation America really is. Only one more before proceeding with this editorial: We Americans possess two-thirds of the banking facilities of the entire world—yes, unbelievable as it may seem, two-thirds.

Why do we enjoy these material things in such abundance, to such a greater degree?

The answer is that free men working and living under "The American Way"—or as some prefer to call it, "The American Capitalistic System of Free, Competitive Enterprise"—achieved these things for the United States of America.

No surrender of "The American Way," in whole or in part, is necessary in this cold war emergency, or in any blazing war which we hope and pray will never materialize. If we proceed with determination not to sacrifice it, there is always a disposition on the part of some to abandon everything we Americans cherish in any crisis, real or imaginary. The hysteria of these unwise thinkers herald.

must not be permitted to draw us into the whirlwind of their emotional convulsions — to stampede us into abandoning the things that have made this nation prosperous, great and strong.

To continue to provide adequate defense for this country, both labor and capital must do their parts—there must be complete cooperation between these two partners of production—leaders in both groups must insist that neither take advantage of any urgent situation to promote their own selfish ends to the detriment of the others, thus endangering the nation's safety.

"The American Way" is essential to the defense of this country. Let's take no chances on losing it. Let every working man, union or non-union, remember that dictators, (communist or socialist) ruthlessly exploit labor; and get every business man not forget that dictators (communist or socialist) confiscate and abolish private property, sooner or later.

Our best defense whether the war be cold or hot, is to keep our ammunition dry by maintaining "The American Way." It has been our bulwark in the past, it is our safeguard now and for the future.

"Because some 85 per cent of Uncle Sam's budget now goes to meet the cost of national defense, past and present, state and local taxes account for over two-thirds of revenues spent for such civilian needs as schools, highways, and hospitals." — Portsmouth (N. H.) Herald.

To kill poison ivy, Maine county agents recommend using a spray containing 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T. Several treatments may be needed. Another good poison ivy killer is Ammate. Don't let these materials get on other plants unless you want them killed, too.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

JOEL "C. J." PARKER, 310 North Main Street, Houston, Texas, became a member of the Breakfast Association, a group of business men that gets together for breakfast every Wednesday morning and has Craft talks. There being fifty-five members, each of them has charge of one meeting a year.

During "C. J.'s" first year he was nervous but he managed to talk about two minutes, then turned on a projector to show a film. This, of course, got him off his feet. About a year later he conducted the meeting in exactly the same manner as the year before, talked about two minutes, then fell back on that movie projector again.

When C. J.'s turn came up for the third time at the Breakfast Club, he looked forward to the opportunity of taking charge. There was no month of agony before that morning, as had been his first two experiences, and his wife could not believe that his attitude had changed so completely. The meeting day came; he got to his feet, spoke and had a grand time. Knowing it must have been a success since several of the fellows spoke about it later.

What brought about the change? He says it was nothing but the practice and drilling he got from joining a class in public speaking where he did night after night what he was afraid to do.

Read Hebrews 11:22-40.

Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith. (Hebrews 12:1,2)

THE Christian life is like a race.

Everyone who runs this great race, the only one which is worth while, must prepare himself for it. It requires feeding on the most nutritious spiritual food, leading a life free from the weight of sin which besets us.

It is important that we keep Christ in sight as we run with patience the race set before us. If we lose sight of Him, we wander from the pathway or mistake the goal, for He is the Way and the Goal. From Him comes inspiration in the very act of running the race; from Him comes the energy needed to reach the end of the race.

Many are watching as we run and the progress we are making in the faith and the living of it. Let us run the race to the glory of God and trust our lives may prove inspirational to a cloud of witnesses.

Prayer

Our Father, we know that the Christian life demands continuous effort and great patience. Encourage us in our race and feed us with Thy spirit that we may be sustained and at last reach the goal. In the name of Christ. Amen.

Thought For The Day

Christ helping us, we can run with patience the race set before us. —Francisco E. Estrella (Mexico)

PONY LEAGUE NOTES

Games coming up this week: Friday, August 26, South Paris at Bethel, 6 P. M.

Wednesday, August 31, Norway at Bethel, 6 P. M.

These two games are the final ones to be played this year and we're hoping to see a good crowd at Thurston Field to give the boys a hand for a very successful season.

Saturday, August 20 — The local Pony League team played their fathers in an exhibition game here at Thurston Field and were almost upset in a close contest 11-10. The old timers started off very strong scoring 4 runs in the 1st, 4 more in the 2nd and two in the 7th inning while the boys were scoring 2 runs in the 2nd, one in the 4th, five in the 5th, and three more in the half of the 6th inning. Addison Saunders started on the mound for the fathers and on-ly allowed one hit in the three innings he played. He was relieved in the 4th by Albert Sumner, who twirled very well but his team-mates made some costly errors be-hind him to help the boys sneak out a win in the late innings. The Ponies used three hurlers: Dickie Roberts, Albert Sumner Jr. and Mel Jodrey.

There are rumors around that the fathers are getting ready to challenge the boys to another game soon. They say it will be a differ-ent ending this time, as the weat-her should be much cooler and, of course, those secret practice sessions should help get over much of the lameness noticed around town this week.

VIRGINIA 5 - BETHEL 3
